

Homes on Paul Avenue were still surrounded by standing water Friday morning following Thursday's deluge. (Photo: Leigh Cooper/The Salinas Californian)

Sand bags outside this Paul Avenue house may have spared it the worst of Thursday's flooding. Nearby residences were still surrounded by water Friday morning. (Photo: Leigh Cooper/The Salinas Californian)

Homes on Paul Avenue were still surrounded by standing water Friday morning following Thursday's deluge. (Photo: Leigh Cooper/The Salinas Californian)

Santa Rita Creek was overwhelmed Thursday following a huge storm. Homes on nearby Russell Road were evacuated after the flooding. By Friday, the creek was still in turmoil. (Photo: Leigh Cooper/The Salinas Californian)

Santa Rita Creek was overwhelmed Thursday following a huge storm. Homes on nearby Russell Road were evacuated after the flooding. By Friday, the creek was still in turmoil. (Photo: Leigh Cooper/The Salinas Californian)

Alisal Road heading out into unincorporated Monterey County was largely flooded Friday morning. (Photo: Leigh Cooper/The Salinas Californian)

Alisal Road heading out into unincorporated Monterey County was largely flooded Friday morning. (Photo: Leigh Cooper/The Salinas Californian)

Alisal Road heading out into unincorporated Monterey County was largely flooded Friday morning. (Photo: Leigh Cooper/The Salinas Californian)

Alisal Road heading out into unincorporated Monterey County was largely flooded Friday morning. (Photo: Leigh Cooper/The Salinas Californian)

Alisal Road heading out into unincorporated Monterey County was largely flooded Friday morning. (Photo: Leigh Cooper/The Salinas Californian)

Alisal Road heading out into unincorporated Monterey County was largely flooded Friday morning. (Photo: Leigh Cooper/The Salinas Californian)

A storm drain washes out Friday morning onto Alisal Road. (Photo: Leigh Cooper/The Salinas Californian)

A small passenger vehicle sat abandoned Friday morning in the middle of moving water on Hartnell Road. (Photo: Leigh Cooper/The Salinas Californian)

A small passenger vehicle sat abandoned Friday morning in the middle of moving water on Hartnell Road. (Photo: Leigh Cooper/The Salinas Californian)

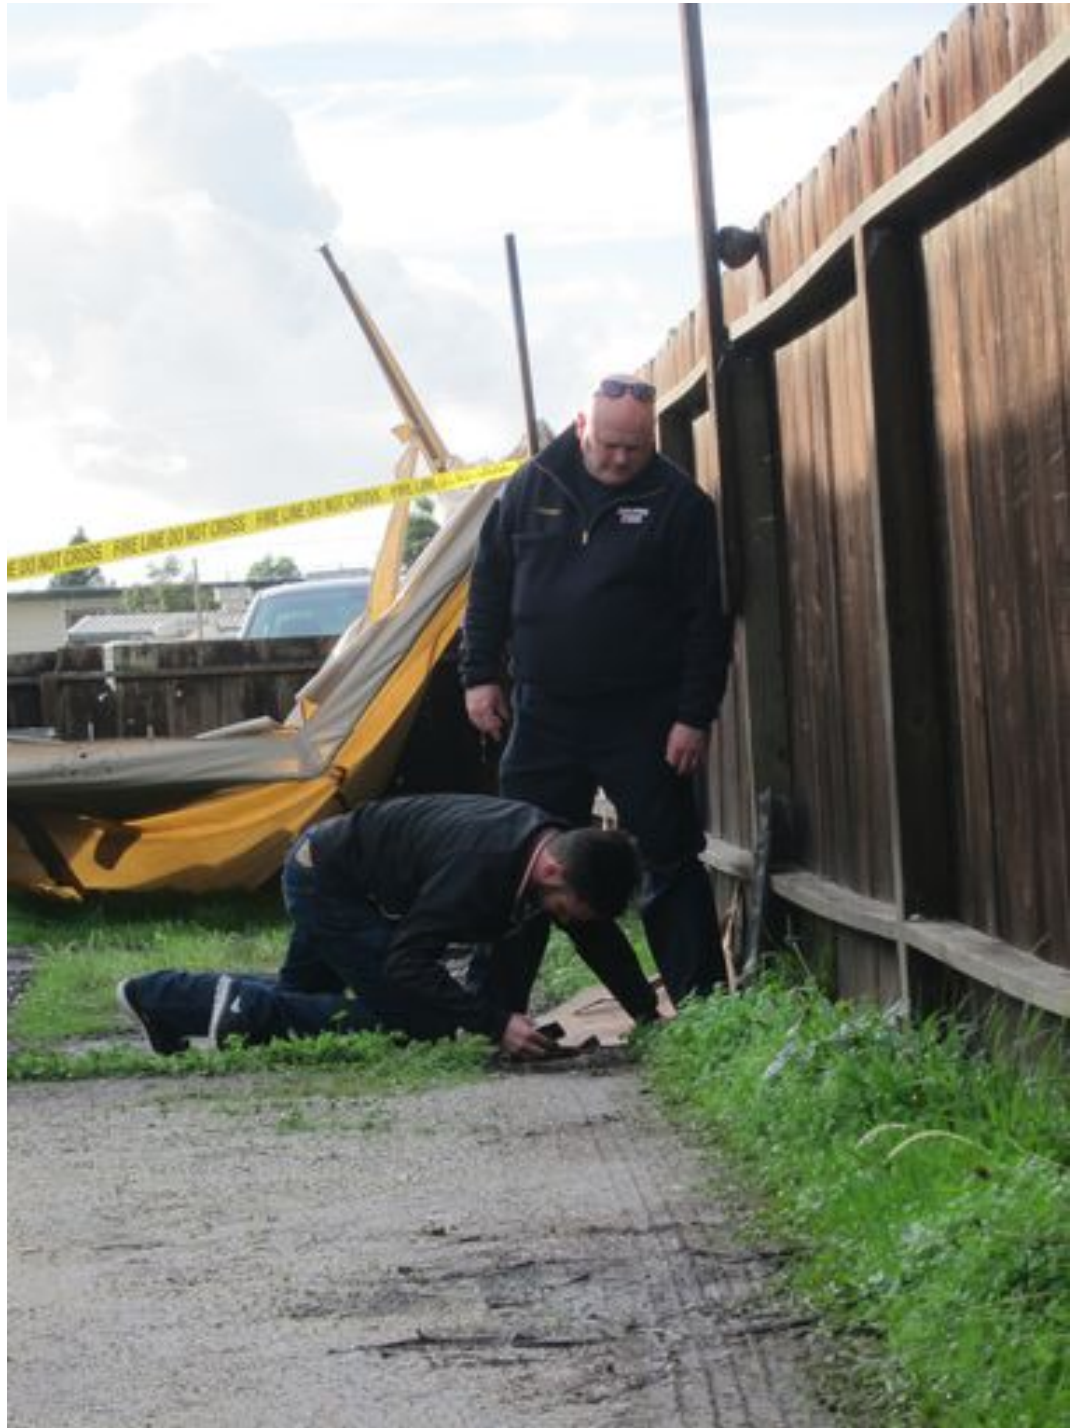

Friday morning, debris still coats a passable portion of Hartnell Road. (Photo: Leigh Cooper/The Salinas Californian)

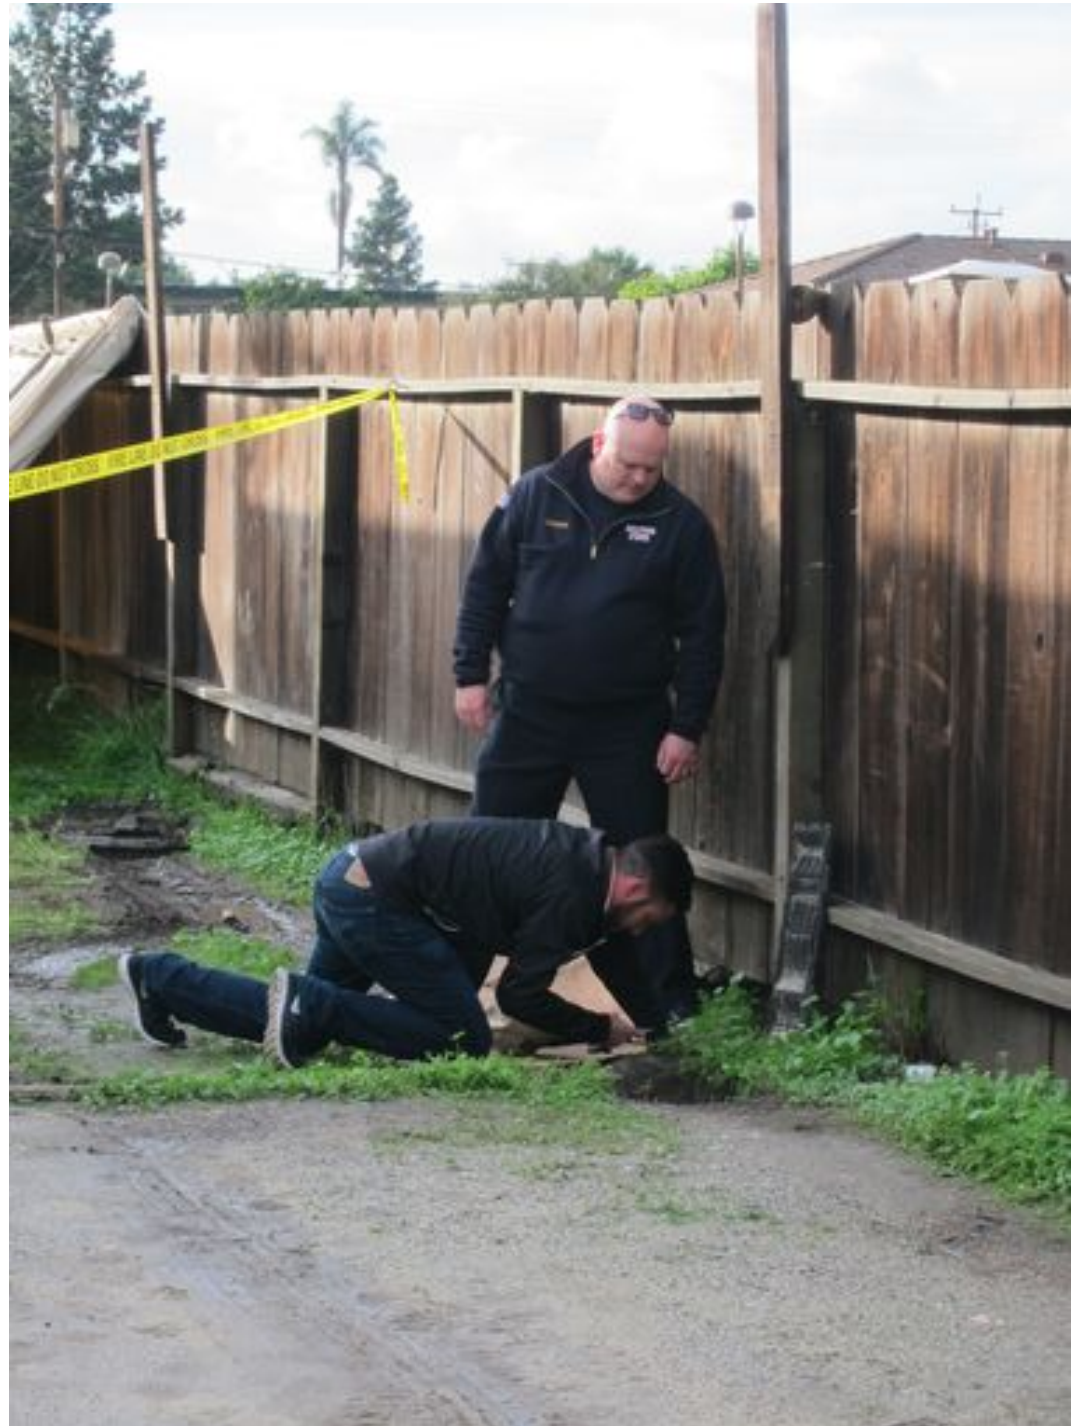

An agricultural field on Hartnell Road near Alisal and Gould roads remained flooded Friday morning. (Photo: Leigh Cooper/The Salinas Californian)

Salinas Fire and Public Works crews inspect a sinkhole Friday afternoon at Baldwin Avenue near West Laurel Drive. (Photo: Leigh Cooper/The Salinas Californian)

Salinas Fire and Public Works crews inspect a sinkhole Friday afternoon at Baldwin Avenue near West Laurel Drive. (Photo: Leigh Cooper/The Salinas Californian)

A firefighter inspects a sinkhole that collapsed Friday afternoon at Baldwin Avenue near West Laurel Drive. (Photo: Leigh Cooper/The Salinas Californian)

